
MICHELE MOLINARIO AND JOE POPOLIZIO TO PRESENT AT THE PRIMA 2018 ANNUAL CONFERENCE

April 17, 2018 | Events, News

Partners Michele Molinaro and Joe Popolizio will be presenting "Police Action: Media Portrayal, Law and Reality," at the Public Risk Management Association (PRIMA) 2018 Annual Conference. Their presentation is an insightful overview of the impact that the media has had on law enforcement policy and practice. This session will examine the media's portrayal of high profile police incidents and its impact on the pursuit of police reform and the movement to transform policy. This session will also focus on how to defend law enforcement in the age of intense media scrutiny.

For three decades, PRIMA has been the one-stop resource for educational programming, risk resources and networking opportunities for public sector risk managers. The Association's mission is to promote effective risk management in the public interest as an essential component of public administration
